ARTHOTSAVA'18

ECXMUN'18, The Model United Nations

Econox ventured into conducting a new event this year. It's very own MUN. Three committees were set up, namely the Security Council, the Human Rights Council and the General Assembly. A lot of candidates, from school and college level participated, and their inexperience only further fueled their ambition and desire to learn. All three communities focused on terrorism, and in the end ECXMUN was declared a big success, with an event of its caliber successfully executed.

ECXMUN'18 marked not only Econox's but College of Vocational Studies' first venture into the arena of MUNing. ECXMUN'18 spanned over two days, consisting of three committees: the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA), the United Nations Security Council (UNSC), the United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) and the International Press (IP). The MUN was headed by our Secretary Generals Varshita Agarwal, Anisha Chandra Singh, and Raghav Dheer. We welcomed both school and college level delegates. At Econox, we understand our role as active members of an ever-changing society. Now that our society is more connected, cultured and civilized than ever before, it faces an entirely different and even graver set of issues. With regard to these issues, we understand the importance of diplomacy, negotiations and the need for solution seeking and peacemaking between countries. With the same idea in mind, we executed ECXMUN'18 where agendas ranged from Terrorism in the Global World to Cyber Security and the need for protection against Cyber Warfare. The zest with which the delegates performed, the knowledge and the sincere concern for inducing a positive change they manifested during the two-day conference is commendable. It really shows us that if the world is going into the hands of the youth, there's nothing to worry about because they uphold in themselves a very high potential for positive growth and change. ECXMUN'18 radically successful conferences stand a testimony to the fact.

ENIGMA, The Online Case Study Competition

For the intellectuals and the highbrows around us, we at Econox, administered Enigma: the online case study competition. Thinking like an Economist requires us to look for alternatives and choose the best path depending upon the cost of our plan of actions. Enigma required of its participants to apply their componential intelligence; to read the given case study centered on the hypothetical postal service Hedwig Courier Services in India and to frame solutions and plans for the challenges being faced by them. The competition was entirely online, spanning over two rounds. Both rounds required the participant to analyze the situation and the figures and work out a viable solution. From over 145 registrations from all over the country, 10 participants reached the second round and one team won the competition.

CLUE-MINATI, The Treasure Hunt

The royal crown of the mighty Jaguar was missing. This news spread like a wild fire in the kingdom. Based on this theme, CLUE-MINATI was organized to salvage the crown back to the Jaguar. More than 50 teams participated from different colleges of Delhi University. To start off, every team was handed a list of things to be found, constituting the scavenger hunt. They were supposed to get as many things as they could, to reach the second round. The aforementioned list contained wacky items like - a red shoe lace, metro token, etc. The main hunting round kicked off when the 7 teams selected from the scavenger hunt were given the first clue at the amphitheatre. Each team was given a riddle, which when deciphered, divulged a location in the campus which had the next clue. Working out the mind-benders, running as fast as they could to the next clue, scheming deceptive discussions to lead other teams to the wrong locations, performing tasks to get the clues – the fun and drama was exhilarating. The team who procured the honor of the kingdom first was declared the winner, the perfect opportunity for newbies to get lost and explore the huge campus of CVS!

MADVERTISE 2.0, The Ad-Mad

Advertising is an emerging field that is due to receive the attention it deserves. Only recently have we begun to see the creative instincts of the people who put work into them, and the potential these advertisements carry in their miniscule share of time and space to make us laugh, cry, think and even change. With this thought Econox, the Economics society of College of Vocational Studies conducted Madvertise 2.0, more popularly called 'Ad-mad' during its annual event Arthotsava. The objective of the event was to give a platform to all advertisement-freaks to come and glorify themselves with their knowledge of brands, logos, advertisements and catchphrases and of course, to unleash their ad-madness. The event was held in three rounds. The first being a Question-Answer round played with 20 teams, the second being a crossword-based round and the final third round asked of the selected teams to create an advertisement themselves using the props they managed to collect during the first two rounds. The winners bagged prizes worth rupees 50,000 and the affirmative nod of the crowd for the wonderful performance they put up!

BID SHOW, The Mock Stock

A mock stock is a platform where you are a trader on the bustling market floor. News flashes and you run to the broker to save your drowning money. Each dip in the stock and you skip a beat. For all the strategies you bring, don't forget LUCK as this will save you from the 'Bears'. After an enthralling and compelling preliminary round, the 50 teams were given legal tender from the Reserve Bank of Econox (RBE) for the next expedition, the live auction. The auction induced a wave of rapidity, with every team scheming an elaborate strategy, doing whatever it took to win the race with the limited amount of resources. Going Once! Going Twice! And sold! Oh, the celerity! The pulse going higher, the accelerating heartbeats, the fierceness and the thrill of the live auction was exhilarating. And finally the last round, with an aim to hone the talent of the future stock brokers, the participants were provided with a virtual stock market, stimulating real life responses to rise and fall in the stock market prices and other conditions.

QUIZMAT KONNECTION, The Bollywood Quiz

Aasan hai kya? Aisi mohabbat karna jiske badle mohabbat na mile? But at Econox this time, we decided to reward your love for movies with more love and a cash-prize of Rs. 10,000. For the movie buff in all of us that breathes Dilwale Dulhaniya Le Jaenge and exhales Kabhi Khushi Kabhi Gume, we conducted Quizmat Konnection, the Bollywood Quiz during our annual event Arthotsava. And if the very idea of listening to your favorite dialogues from your favorite movies gets you excited then you should have been there and if you were, you know what I'm talking about! The quiz started with a total of 70 teams. The first round of the Quiz was a pen and paper round called "Student of The Year" based on movie trivia. The second round was the Audio- Visual round called "Jagga Jasoos" based on songs, snippets and dialogues from various Bollywood movies. "Monobolly", the third round involved our B-wood fans running around the campus, performing tasks and answering questions specific to their spots (Villains corner, Kapoor Kona, Khan Adda) to reach the final round. The final round was a rapid fire round called "Waqt: The Race Against Time". At the end of all this musical, dramatic hustle we got our winners of Quizmat Konnection.

But because Bollywood binds us all together in skipping, dancing joy and thrill and always calls for more, our B-town participants played mass Pictionary at the end of the Quiz where the participant had to draw the song given to him/her and the rest had to guess. To bid adieu, we had the room resonating with songs being sung to a Karaoke. We are proud to claim how successfully we inculcated the spirit of the Bollywood culture into our event as well.

GARDEN COMMITTEE

The Garden Committee has continued with developing the garden and environs of the College.

The herbal garden is doing well, with 24 different herbs, the nursery for plants and herbs has expanded, and the compost pit for in-house organic manure generates a good deal of manure for the plants.

The rockery and the stone garden at the entrance are both flourishing. Fencing of all the beds in the garden has been done, using waste material from the College.

A tree plantation drive was held on the first day of the College, July 2017, with the teachers and students.

Pots with plants that help to clean the particulate matter in the air, have been placed in the Staff Room and around the College, and teachers and students were encouraged to take these home.

In the future, the Garden Committee plans to take up rainwater harvesting, solar energy generation recycling waste and e-waste and provide students with a platform to discuss and debate and try to find actionable solutions to the environmental issues that we face.

Plans for the future include de-concretization of the campus and helping trees to 'breathe and grow', and further development of the nursery.

A bamboo garden and a croton garden are also planned.

A flash mob and Nukkad Natak was performed by the WWF volunteers on 22nd March, 2018 in CVS Campus, to inspire us to curb some habits, practices and lifestyles burdening both our lives and environment and to choose alternatives to connect2Earth. All non-essential lights were switched off in CVS during Earth hour on 24th March, 2018 from 8:30 to 9:30 pm. CVS has also pledged to support the Give-up movement to address the growing climatic crisis by

- i) Preventing use of excess paper where it is unnecessary and recycling used paper.

- ii) Giving up one degree of air-conditioner temperature in college campus to reduce electricity consumption.

Holding on to this ideology, the college has always taken initiatives to foster practical knowledge and professionalism amongst the students of CVS.

From our honourable Principal Dr. Inderjeet Dagar to our highly experienced and encouraging academic faculty and our supportive administrative staff, they all have played a great role in making all kinds of ideas, dreams and visions turn into reality for each and every member of Mercadeo, and the students of CVS.

Mercadeo's endeavours panning out in these years in the form of informative guest lectures, advertising competitions, annual marketing fest and our outstation academic fest trips would not have been possible without support from the college for official permissions, attendance for the lectures missed, providing the college rooms, audio & video systems and other college infrastructure.

We feel blessed to have the able guidance of the Principal Sir and the Faculty Members in each and every step and we feel grateful for their helpful insights, sincere involvement in our working despite their hectic schedules. Our great share of freedom to exploring, experimenting and the confidence to achieve greater milestones is drawn from our teacher's reliability and support and encouragement that act as a backbone for Mercadeo.

Since it's inception, Mercadeo has organized many guest lectures with the help of the college staff and authorities and have organized university level competitions (Best Marketer, Best Entrepreneur, Business Plan, Case Study, Public Relation & Human Resource Management, Financial Management, Admart, Mockmart, Incendo 2015, and Incendo 2016) and has participated in many national level competitions and each time our teachers (Dr. Suriender Singh, Dr. Anurag Agnihotri, Mr. S.K.Bhatia, Mrs. Neerja Arya, Dr. Sunil and many others) have been a constant source of guidance and our one-stop-solution to all our problems.

Events & Fests

• THE SOCIAL STUDIO (1st august & 2nd august 2017)

Marking its second year of presence, Social Studio 2.0 was a grand success with a footfall of about 300 students from our college. Social Studio was our photo booth which happened in the month of August; the freshers were welcomed with lots of fun, pictures to be clicked and a cheat to get into the final round of the recruitment of our society.

A small, fun quiz was organised to help freshers get a golden ticket which straight away took them to the last round of the recruitment process.

Social studio was a huge success, and towards its end, 35 students in total turned out to be golden ticket winners straight away qualifying for the personal interview round. Along with the quiz, a personalized photo booth with interesting and attractive props made it a fun day for all the freshers.

□ CLASS REPRESENTATIVE PROGRAMME (10th to 20th August 2017)

Another venture for shy students to make it to the final round of the recruitment process with their resilience and hard work; Mercadeo's CR program helped total 15 students with golden tickets.

A CR is given simple duties like passing important information about the society's events onto Whatsapp groups and through social media platforms.

This not only proved their sense of responsibility but also helped us in evaluating their dedication towards work.

A CR was supposed to do the following:

- Attend all society's events
- Make sure all information is passed on to class groups
- Make sure more people attend the event
- Promote the society on social media

All CR's were supposed to do all of the above mentioned things for 10 days.

• ORIENTATION (22nd August 2017)

As majority of schools in India don't have the concept of societies or clubs, many students have trouble understanding how societies can go a long way in resume building.

Many students have serious concerns like attendance, class performance and are confused about whether to join a society or not.

On top of that, so many societies to choose from confuse them even further.

This is why we organised our Orientation. Our major motive was to have an informative session with the freshers to make them understand how a society works and how Mercadeo works.

Also, it helped in making the students aware about Mercadeo and its role as a marketing society.

Various queries were brought up in the session and were cleared right away.

This also proved to be a bonding session amongst existing Mercadeo members and the potential ones.

• RECRUITMENT PROCESS (23rd August & 28th-31st August 2017)

Our recruitment took place in the end of August.

The application process had 3 rounds in total.

- Online application
- Group discussion
- Personal interview

All golden ticket winners from the social studio and CR programme were exempted from the 2nd round of the recruitment process.

Mercadeo took approximately 30 group discussions and 100 personal interviews over three days.

The fresher's were enthusiastic and ultimately 53 students made it to Mercadeo's ORGANISING COMMITTEE.

- PARTICIPATION IN SYNERGY-Jaipur (15th to 17th September 2017)

A contingent of 17 people went to ST.Xavier's annual economic fest, SYNERGY'17 in the month of September.

It was a fun and enlightening experience for everyone on the trip as the exciting and difficult competitions not only challenged us but made us realize how competitive the world is and exactly where we stand.

We obtained 3rd position in their event The Press Quest which was a combination of debating and current news.

- GUEST LECTURE ON MARKETING (22ND September 2017)

As an opening chapter for our Project Turn we had Mr. Alok Kumar and his team for a marketing seminar. A very interactive session with students as marketing as the future prospect. He bestowed the occasion with his presence of sheer knowledge about any and every thing about marketing.

- REPRESENTATION AT THE DCAC COLLEGE (25th-26th October 2017)

- OKTOBER FEST (30th October 2017)

Oktoberfest is our bi-annual event. Its name is inspired by a famous festival in Germany.

From the last three years, we've been organising two competitions; Mock Mart and AD-Mad.

This year, we tried renovating a little.

We introduced three new events –

- The Honest Hypocrite (A marketing based event with a quiz with a twist which ended in a panel discussion)
- Cryptomania (A mock stock which dealt in crypto currencies instead of money. A first of its kind event which turned out to be an absolute success.)
- The Last laugh (A fun event with some practical marketing on the street)

Mercadeo is growing every year with its new events. This year of Oktoberfest was nothing but a glory for all of us.

Incendo preparations

1. Sponsor meetings (12th to 22nd January, 2018)

An annual fest comes with the need for excessive funds.

Our fundraising team started pitching sponsors in early January and spent the month convincing them to sponsor our event.

Here's a few of our sponsors:

TIME

Kama restaurant

Daphne Girl

Trippin events

These meetings not only helped everyone in realising how hard it is to raise hard cash in the world but also helped each and every member develop a power of convincing and a lot of confidence.

2. Outreach Meetings

Side by side, our outreach team started pitching other colleges for collaborations for our Fest.

We had 20 MoU's signed with colleges all over Delhi.

Then came the Prelims.

Mercadeo organised its prelims for Incendo in total six colleges, namely:

Shaheed Sukhdev College of Business Studies

Delhi College of Arts and Commerce

Ramanajun College

Gargi College

Seen Dayal Uphadhya

Moti Lal Nehru College

Other than that, we also held our prelims at CVS during Runbhoomi'18 to target students all over Delhi.

3. Creative Meetings

Creative department is responsible for social media marketing, posters, designing and for creation of content. All along, Creative department has been working to create content for all of the work that was needed for the sponsor meetings and the outreach meetings.

From posting our events online to designing ID cards for every Mercadeo member, the Creative department has done it all.

4. Event Designing Meetings

From landing on a theme for the fourth edition of Incendo, to designing all rounds of every event and deciding how the winners are to be decided, all was done by the Event Designing team which worked for at least 2 hours every day in college.

From every question of a quiz to how we decide the winner, every detail was planned by the Event Designing Team.

All of these 4 departments worked through February without fail. Mercadeo had meetings all throughout the weeks and every day in March to ensure that Incendo would not only happen but also turn out to be a success.

Mercadeo organised the fourth edition of its annual fest, Incendo 4.0 on 20th and 21st March, 2018.

The theme for this year's fest was Imperio. Crucio. Occidere.

This theme was inspired by the famous movie and book series, Harry Potter.

A two day annual marketing fest with 5 events took place at Vallabhai Patel Chest Institute, North Campus.

The events were as follows:

The Mercad (Best Marketer)

The Bilzerian (Fun event)

The Magnus (Business Quiz)

The Annotator (Public Relations)

The Riches Angel (Financial Management)

Incendo was an amazing experience yet again. Not only did the Organising Committee members learn from it, but even the council got lessons that will stay with them for the rest of their lives.

Getting on a stage, questioning the abilities of participants is much more enlightening than being a participant.

All the work that was put into it finally paid off during those two days.

Mercadeo is proud to say that Incendo 4.0 was a huge success. Not only did it keep Mercadeo's flag high but also brought the OC's closer to the EB and the Council.
